Moscow Report Says Russians Still Hold Initiative In Battle

NAZIS ARE USING MASSES OF TANKS

Heavy Losses Are Being Sustained As Battle Nears Critical Stage

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, May 26.—The revitalized southern Soviet armies held the initiative on the Kharkov front today and repulsed with bloody losses German attempts to push across a river on the Izum sector, 70 miles south of Kharkov.

A front-line dispatch to the government newspaper Izvestia stated that 1,200 German troops were left dead on the battlefield after two abortive attempts to cross the unmanned river.

The army newspaper Red Star reported that the Soviet immediately counter-attacked, recrossed the river and occupied an inhabited point. A fierce artillery duel was said to be raging.

Nazis Use Many Tanks

More than 1,000 Nazis were killed on another section of the front, it was announced, as the Germans sought to advance behind a solid phalanx of tanks. Fifty tanks and two infantry regiments were used by the enemy, it was said.

The hard-driving Red armies were busy also on the central and Leningrad fronts. A Nazi drive northeast of Smolensk was smashed and three villages retaken by counter-attacking Soviet troops.

The Germans were said to have sustained heavy losses. Russian troops around Leningrad

Report Japan Prepares For Major Offensive Against China Soon

By FRANCIS LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
CHUNGKING, May 26.—

Japan is preparing a major offensive against China by concentrating large numbers of troop transports, warships and aircraft carriers on the island of Formosa, a Chinese military spokesman declared today.

The spokesman said that the concentrations apparently were being made for a large-scale invasion of Fukien Province, on the southeast coast, separated from Formosa by the Formosa Strait.

Numerous Japanese mechanized units already have been landed in occupied Indo-China, he said. The spokesman said he could not be certain whether the equipment sent into Indo-China meant that the Japanese were planning an all-out invasion of Yunnan Province, bordering Burma.

Bloody battles continued to rage in Chekiang Province, just north of Fukien, where Chinese forces are desperately resisting a Japanese at-

Planes Bomb Axis Sub Off Brazil Coast

(International News Service)
RIO DE JANEIRO, May 26.—An Axis submarine was bombed off the northern Brazilian coast when it was sighted by shore patrol planes, unofficial reports said today.

Some reports said the submarine was sunk. It was reported meanwhile that the Argentine freighter Rio Igazu was heading for Pernambuco to land 56 men picked up at sea in the men were survivors of an American ship which the Rome radio recently claimed had been sunk in Atlantic waters.

The ministry of marine in Buenos Aires confirmed that 56 survivors had been picked up but did not divulge the nationality of those rescued or name the ship involved.

United Nations Bombers Make Raids On Japs

Rabaul And Lae Are Attacked By Fliers—Several Jap Planes Lost

(International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, in Australia, May 26.—Battling strong enemy interceptors, formations of United Nations bombers carried out successful raids on Rabaul, New Britain, and Lae, New Guinea, a communiqué from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters declared today.

Four enemy fighters were shot down in a series of fierce air battles over the two Japanese air bases. One United Nations bomber did not return to its base, the communiqué stated.

Text of the communiqué follows: "New Britain-Rabaul: Our air force attacked Vunakanau airbase in the face of strong fighter interception. Aircraft on the ground were damaged and large fires were started in the building area. All of our planes returned. Two enemy fighters were shot down.

"New Guinea-Lae: Allied bombers struck again at the airbase, dropping bombs in the target area. Heavy anti-aircraft fire and strong intercepting force were encountered. Two enemy fighters were shot down. We lost one plane in the combat."

There were no attacks on United Nations bases at Port Moresby or in northern Australia. A United Nations transport plane crashed in central Australia yesterday, headquarters announced. An American officer and several enlisted men and two Australian fliers were killed. The crash was believed to have been due to motor failure.

CLAIM DEMANDS MADE ON VICHY

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 26.—Formal demands have been made on Vichy by Italy for Nice, Corsica and Tunisia, the News Chronicle declared today following the return of Pierre Laval from Paris conferences with Nazi officials. The Ankara radio said Mussolini had sent a note to Vichy formalizing the "insistent" Italian demands that these territories be ceded by Vichy as "the fruits of victory."

As the Italian press raised a clamor against France the Daily Mail declared that Mussolini had consulted his chiefs-of-staff on the advisability of taking steps to occupy the coveted territory. Some bidders suggested that Hitler was supporting the Italian demands as a means of forcing quicker and complete collaboration by Vichy.

The fact that the Italian press was making Laval a chief target of its attacks was believed in some circles to indicate that pressure would be directed to force his resignation from the government.

U. S. Ranking Air Officers Arrive In Britain For Parley

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 26.—Arrival in London of ranking officers of the air arms of both the United States Navy and Army was officially announced today coincident with a rising belief that American airmen soon will join the Royal Air Force in combined operations for a grand assault against Germany and Nazi bases in occupied territories.

Heading a contingent of operational officers of America's army and navy air forces in England to confer with British officials, were Lieut. Gen. Henry H. (Hap) Arnold, commanding general of the army air forces, and Rear Admiral John H. Towers, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics.

Many Arrests Made In Paris

Widespread Unrest Is Reported In Occupied France And In Germany

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 26.—Reports of widespread unrest came from occupied France and Germany today as the Gestapo widened its activities in combating fifth column activities and sabotage. Eighty-three arrests were reported in Paris alone during the past week, according to the Daily Mail.

Anti-Nazi elements in the occupied area of France have been organized into a "national front for independence" which has recognized the leadership of Charles DeGaulle of the Free French movement, the Daily Mail declared.

The German controlled Paris radio, which reported street fighting yesterday in the former French capital, gave no further details of the disorders. A Paris youth organization was said to have been attacked by "doubtful elements" in the Latin quarter, and in the fracas a number of shots were fired.

The widespread arrests in Paris were directed at breaking up an underground movement which is well organized throughout the occupied area, according to reports reaching Free French circles in London.

Thirty persons have been executed within Germany during the past three weeks, according to a Reuters dispatch from Stockholm quoting the newspaper Svenska Dagbladet. The dispatch gave no details but recent reports from Germany have told of various acts of sabotage.

Second Front Is Urged On Britain

Former British War Secretary Says It Might End War During Present Year

(International News Service)
DAVENPORT, England, May 26.—Leslie Hore-Belisha, former British war secretary, declared today that the successful establishment of a second front on the European continent might end the war this year.

The former war secretary, dismissed from his post during the Chamberlain cabinet shakeup in 1940, last week attacked the government's war policies in the House of Commons where he criticized Prime Minister Churchill for assuming the portfolio of defense minister as well as the premiership.

He said today: "Auspices will be favorable for the opening of a second front when this truth is mastered. When the land and sea forces have been given aerial support of a type and in the numbers necessary."

"Effective timing may depend on the development of events on the eastern front. "The psychological moment may come beyond which we must not delay. If our actions are to turn the scale, we must be ready to seize that opportunity."

Possibility Of Second Front More Likely

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 26.—Excitement over the possibility of a "second front" rose to fever pitch today with the arrival in London of high ranking United States air, tank and ground force commanders.

Heading the American delegation were Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commander of the Army Air Forces; Rear Admiral John H. Towers, chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics; Maj. Gen. Mark W. Clark, chief of staff of the Army Ground Forces; and Maj. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief of the Operations Division of the War Department.

Clark is an infantry specialist. Eisenhower a tank expert.

While no official announcement was made beyond the terse statement that the American generals had arrived in London, recent statements by British leaders regarding joint American-British action against Germany were recalled.

All London newspapers devoted headlines to arrival of the visitors, relegating news of the Russian front to second place.

The Evening News predicted a "joint offensive against Germany."

Two War Workers Killed In Blast At Lansing, Mich.

(International News Service)

LANSING, Mich., May 26.—At least two war workers were killed today, a third was seriously injured and a fourth was reported missing when an explosion, believed accidental by plant officials, ripped a building of the Fisher Body corporation and set it afire.

Preliminary reports were that the explosion was centered in "gas tanks" which four men were cleaning with compressed air but reports conflicted on whether the "gas" referred to acetylene gas or to gasoline.

The worker reported missing was feared buried under the pile of debris left by the blast. Plant officials ordered a roll call of all those working in the vicinity to check whether any other workers were missing.

(Editors' note: In Detroit, a company spokesman said the explosion was in an auxiliary building and would not interfere with war production.)

Second Front—The words that have been on the lips of England for many months—seemed to take further shape and form today with the arrival in London of high ranking U. S. air, tank and ground force commanders.

And in Berlin's Wilhelmstrasse, already shaken by invasion jitters, the news that the Americans had reached England for conferences leading to close cooperation between British and American forces certainly was not the kind to make Ersatz lunches hit more easily.

Eastern Flood Toll Has Reached 36

Red Cross And Other Relief Agencies Taking Care Of Homeless

FALSE REPORT CAUSES PANIC

(International News Service)
HONOLULU, Pa., May 26.—The ever-increasing number of identified dead in eastern Pennsylvania's devastated "flash flood" area mounted to 36 today as authorities were still unable to account for 11 others, 10 of them from hard-hit Wayne county.

As a horrible anti-climax to a week-end of death, grieving and suffering, Honolul's 5,600 residents were thrown into panic late yesterday when rumor spread that the Lake Ladore dam, 10 miles above town, had broken and another wall of water was ripping down the Lackawanna valley.

Amidst the sounding of fire sirens, police whistles and shouts of warning by state authorities, the townspeople fled to the hills. It was not until a check was made by home guardsmen that the "refugees" consented to return.

Meanwhile in the remainder of the 17 stricken counties, the hard work of salvage and cleaning up was underway as hunger and threat of pestilence continued. Emergency crews of workmen labored unceasingly to restore to full production vital war plants temporarily inundated by the rampaging Lehigh, Lackawanna, Schuylkill and Lackawanna rivers.

Red Cross and other relief organizations were taking care of the homeless—3,000 of them were from Honolul alone. Gov. Arthur H. James dispatched another company of 100 home guardsmen to augment the forces already on the scene.

The giant, four-mile-long Bethlehem Steel company plant at Bethlehem was expected to return to capacity schedules "within a few days."

tempt to capture Kinkwa, the provincial capital, the spokesman said. He disclosed that the Chinese are holding the Japanese both north and south of the city although their position is precarious. The invaders have driven to within less than two miles of Kinkwa on the south and are seven and a half miles outside the northern gates.

The spokesman said that military situation in China is "still grave" because of the increasingly fierce battles expected in Chekiang and the possibility of a heavy invasion of Fukien.

He was hopeful, he said, that the United Nations would be able to send in war planes to China in order to "spare our troops the difficulty of battling against unequal odds without air protection."

China is heartened, he said, by the fact that the campaign in Burma gave India time to strengthen its defenses. He said the Chinese hoped that the United Nations would do their utmost to establish new communications links between India and China.

Fighting in Burma and also in the Yunnan border area has continued throughout the past week, he said, adding that "it will continue as stillwell (American Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell) promised."

Earlier reports from the Kinkwa front said one force of Japanese driving toward the city had been repulsed after reaching to within three miles and left 1,000 dead on the battlefield.

U. S. RANKING AIR OFFICERS ARRIVE IN BRITAIN FOR PARLEY

went from their hotel this morning after a brief rest to confer with United States Ambassador John G. Winant over the breakfast table.

To Begin Conference. It was understood that the American air chiefs and the staffs would begin conferences almost immediately with British officials to work out details of military cooperation between United States and British forces.

With General Arnold and Admiral Towers, were Major General Dwight D. Eisenhower, head of the operations division of the war department, and Major General Mark W. Clark, chief of staff of the army ground forces.

Presence of the air chiefs in London was considered highly significant in view of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's recent statement in a review of the war that the Royal Air Force would increase its heavy air blows against the Reich and within due time would be joined by American air forces.

These events dovetailed with a subsequent announcement by an authoritative British spokesman that the United Nations would be able to send 1,000 planes daily against Germany and destroy the backbone of Germany's war production.

Reliable reports have stated that the joint operations in Europe would be conducted in the same manner as air forces of America and Australia have been working in the southwest Pacific, with the R. A. F. and American forces retaining separate identities but cooperating fully in combined assaults.

The landing on the islands, which are west of Timor and south of Celebes, was said to have been effected by naval units.

KHARKOV BATTLE RAGES FURIOUSLY; NOW IN 15TH DAY

were reported to have captured heights northwest of the city. Meanwhile, the Red armies consolidated their hard won positions before the blood-spattered gates of the Ukrainian metropolis.

"During the night the Red army consolidated positions in the Kharkov direction and fought defensive engagements in the Izyum-Barvenkovo area," the noon communique said.

Costing Germans Heavily. The Izyum-Barvenkovo offensive was said to be costing the Germans dearly in losses of tanks and men.

A new attack by the Germans on the Kalinin front, northwest of Moscow, was said by Red army officials to have been repulsed, with more than 200 Nazis killed.

The mighty struggle for possession of Kharkov appeared to be developing today into a "battle of wedges," with both the Germans and Russians moving spearheads into each others' lines.

In one area the thrusts and counter-thrusts eliminated any semblance of a front and turned the sector into a churning battlefield. This see-saw battling was taking place over a wide territory between Chuguev, Lozovaya and Izyum below Kharkov.

The Red army forces under command of Marshal Semenov Timoshenko were reported to have pierced the Nazi lines on a half-mile front at Savits, 20 miles northwest of Izyum. The breakthrough was said to have been effected after Timoshenko's forces undertook a large-scale hammering of the left flank of a Nazi wedge.

Battle In The 15th Day. Official details on the Kharkov battle, now in its 15th day, were meager but the Russians were reported to be holding firm in the face of terrific Nazi counter blows designed to halt the Soviet push on the key Ukraine city.

"Fighting continues in the Kharkov direction," was the only mention of the battle in the midnight Soviet communique.

"In the Izyum-Barvenkovo direction (70 miles southeast of Kharkov) the Soviets engaged in fierce fighting with German tanks and infantry.

Dispatches from the front described the battling before Kharkov as the most severe of the entire war, with the campaign now reaching its most critical stage.

It was pointed out that if the Germans are able to make appreciable headway from the Izyum-Barvenkovo area the Russians will have to fall back from the outskirts of Kharkov. But if the Russians hold and beat back German Field Marshal Fedor von Bock's counter-offensive to the southeast the Germans probably will be unable to retain their hold on Kharkov.

Blaze Of Fury. Front line reports called the battlefields in the southeast Ukraine one vast blaze of fury, with tanks smashing at each other on the ground and large air forces screaming overhead.

(In London the Daily Express reported that Russian reinforcements are now reaching the Kharkov front in an effort to put down the German counter-thrusts.)

The Moscow radio meanwhile reported a "marked increase" of activity on the central front west of Moscow.

(The London Daily Herald stated that a new battle had opened between Moscow and Smolensk, because the Germans were said to have launched a heavy offensive and claim to have captured 30 villages.)

Soviet naval planes were reported by the Moscow radio to have sunk two German destroyers and an 8,000-ton transport in the past few days, a third destroyer, it was said, probably was sunk.

Ten German planes were reported destroyed Sunday while the Russians lost seven.

Axis Reports. London, May 26.—Axis reports relayed through Stockholm today told of extremely bitter battles raging on the Kharkov front.

Several hundred warplanes were said to be engaged almost continuously in fierce sky battles. The reports said.

The Germans, it was said, are using a new "flying anti-tank gun" which consists of a Stuka dive-bomber armed with a special anti-tank gun which fires special shells "capable of piercing the thickest armor."

(Editor's Note: The Russian Stormovik bombers have been so equipped for some time.)

An authoritative British source said meanwhile that the German attack in the Izyum area southeast of Kharkov are "continuing to embarrass" the Russians and that progress on the Kharkov front has been brought to a complete standstill.

The German claim to have surrounded three Russian armies was doubted, however, although the situation remained obscure.

Seaman Lived In New Castle

Further developments today reveal the fact that Leonard Shearer, a rescued seaman from a submarine merchantman who was landed at Key West, Florida, on Monday, left New Castle about 14 years ago.

Mr. Shearer was listed as a third assistant engineer whose address is New Castle, Pa. On Monday a check here failed to reveal him as a resident of this city. Today it became known that Mr. Shearer is a former resident of New Castle and about fourteen years ago lived on Croton avenue. He is a cousin of Mrs. Ruth Watters of 376 Neshaunock avenue. Some fourteen years ago Mr. Shearer enlisted in the Merchant Marine and has risen to the grade of third assistant engineer.

In his statement at Key West, Monday, he stated that as the raiding submarine left the scene of the sinking, some of the crew stood on deck of the sub and raised their arms in the Nazi salute.

MUSICAL VICTORY TEA FOR READING CIRCLE

The Reading Circle met for the last time until next fall on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Flannery, Highland avenue. A sugarless victory tea was the climax of the afternoon's program, which was a delightful selection of vocal solos and duets sung by Mrs. Rose Rosenberger and Mrs. James A. Rugh with piano music by Mrs. Paul Welsh.

The program followed the final business session at which Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger presided, when reports for the year were given and a budget committee was appointed. Mrs. W. E. Ferver is chairman of the committee, with Mrs. M. M. Ingham and Mrs. Henry Stone also serving. Programs for the coming year were given out by Mrs. J. F. Rantz, program chairman.

A duet, "Oh, That We Two Were Mating," sung by Mrs. Rosenberger, soprano, and Mrs. Rugh, contralto, with Mrs. Welsh accompanying, opened the program. Following this a group of three songs, "This Day Is Mine," "Into the Night," and "Phyllis Takes Her Vocal Lesson," were sung by Mrs. Rosenberger.

Mrs. Welsh then played the "alse" by Levitsky. Mrs. Rugh's solo numbers included "Were My Song With Wings Provided," "Clouds," "Sunbeams" and "Don't Talk to Me of Spring." A duet, "Waters of the Minnetonka," concluded the enjoyable program.

Served at a table graced by an arrangement of flowers in the club colors, using purple iris and lemon lilies, the victory tea was a carefully planned so that none of the refreshments used sugar. The Russian tea, the cookies, cake and candy all made ingenious use of sugar substitutes. In charge of the tea were Mrs. W. E. Ferver, social chairman; Mrs. Ira Ramsey and Mrs. C. Edson Rummell.

Messenger Being Held For Hearing

Forgery Charge To Be Made—
Said To Be Wanted In Several Cities

Police Chief Willis G. McMullen today stated he will file an information today charging forgery against Charles Messenger, alias John T. Franklin alias Jack Wilson, captured in Apple way Saturday night after he reportedly passed a forged check on a local business man.

However, it is possible that the FBI may take custody of the man on the basis of his own story, according to police, that the auto he used here was stolen in the New England states. Transportation of a stolen auto across a state line constitutes a violation of the Dyer act.

Meanwhile, Messenger, who reportedly told authorities he first broke into criminal ranks in 1895 and who now is 64 years of age, was held in the county jail pending information from eastern cities where he is reportedly wanted for law violations.

The chief said today that Albany authorities had telegraphed that "Wilson's record was too long to teletype."

Japanese Using New Air Weapon

(International News Service)
SYDNEY, May 26.—Japanese fighter planes are using a new "secret weapon" against United Nations bomber formations. It was revealed here today.

The new weapon made its first appearance over Rabaul and Lae and has been nicknamed the "pear drop." It consists of an air bomb described by American and Australian pilots as a pear-shaped cone and has been used by Zero planes as an offensive weapon against bombers.

The Zero fighters climb about 1,000 feet above a bombing formation, speed some distance ahead and then drop their "secret weapon" which, when released vertically burst with considerable violence, sending out a pear-shaped shower of shrapnel with a tongue of bluish smoke.

The United Nations pilots did not say whether the new weapon has proved effective.

Merchants Meet Monday Night

Many Matters Are Given Attention At Session—Truck Situation Considered

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—The Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce met last night in the chamber rooms with President Howard Jones presiding. The merchants unanimously agreed to suspend business in their stores on July 1 at 12 o'clock and devote 15 minutes to the sale of defense stamps and bonds. The 15 minutes business campaign will be held all over the country and was requested by President Roosevelt.

A motion made by Adolph Lebowitz and seconded by Mr. Levine, that merchants close their stores on Wednesday afternoons during June, July and August, carried. The Wednesday afternoon closing is to go into effect starting Wednesday, June 3.

A lengthy discussion was held by the merchants relative to the Office of Defense Transportation general order No. 1 whereby no trucking firms can deliver or bring into Ellwood City merchandise from outside a 15-mile radius unless they take back a 75 per cent load. This is expected to work an undue hardship on all trucking firms, industries and business establishments. A special meeting in connection with the rest of Lawrence county is expected to be held very shortly.

Paul Reynolds, chairman of the wooden nickel campaign in connection with the Golden Jubilee, explained how the wooden nickels would work.

All merchants were warned that they must cooperate in the request of President Roosevelt and the Federal Reserve bank whereby all old accounts should be liquidated as soon as possible and that unless payment is made by the 10th of the second month during which the goods are purchased, no further credit may be extended to purchase merchandise until such default is cured.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The Aerial Cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your country go over its War Bond Quota.

Boy Scout Camp To Open June 28

(Contributed)
Just about one more month before Lawrence County Boy Scout camp opens, to be exact June 28. This is an event for scouts from all over the county—because this year the camp will be different in many respects.

First of all, it will be completely ready when camp opens. It will be ready the first day of camping and the scouts that go to the first week will not be as in former years, have to do as well as many other smaller chores, but scouting will start right on the first Monday.

Secondly, there will be plenty of good clean sport as the athletic director is now working and planning—and besides the boys that qualify will be instructed in fire arms safety. This is brand new in camp and there will be actual rifle practice under the leadership of Cecil Suber and his staff of sportsmen who will teach safety with firearms. The instructors will bring their own firearms and will remove them from camp after each course, so no boy will be permitted to bring his own rifle.

The camp itself is undergoing many repairs and new equipment is now being installed where needed in order to safeguard the health of the boys.

The camp season opens on a Sunday and closes on Sunday and as the time for the court of honor at camp has been set for Saturday evening, the parents will have an opportunity to attend and at the same time take their boys home if his camp trip is over, this was done to conserve travel.

Many are already signed up for all 5 weeks and many applications are for two and three weeks, so don't delay get yours in now so that you will not be told that the weeks you would like are filled up.

Vacations to far off places are not easy this year, so you better plan on this trip to Boy Scout camp, June 28 to August 2.

This is a Washing Machine

This is the family that owns the washing machine. They are very unhappy.

They are unhappy because the washing machine is broken down and they can't get a new one like it on account of the war.

Why are they reading the newspaper?

They hope that the merchant who sold these machines when they were plentiful will have an advertisement in the newspaper.

The merchant knows that many owners will need to keep their washing machines for the duration. So he advertises services and repairs.

Good merchants advertise in wartime. They know that the war has created a need for many special services. They know that if they give their customers the service that is needed more than ever, the customers will remember them when the time comes for the goods they sell to be plentiful again.

Truckers Hear
New U. S. RulesRecent Order On Trucking
Is Discussed At Meeting
Last Night

Approximately 100 men representing industry, business houses and trucking companies met in The Castleton hotel Monday night to hear the details of the recent order of the Office of Defense Transportation explained by Paul W. Keely, acting president of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association. The meeting was called by the Lawrence County chapter of the PMTA with President Al W. Bauman, Jr., in charge.

Mr. Keely has recently returned from conference with officers of the ODT and laid the case of motor transportation out plainly. It was not a promising picture insofar as the use of cars or trucks are concerned.

Eastman in Charge
Mr. Keely explained that Joseph Eastman of the I. C. C. had been named head of the O. D. T. and had laid down certain rules which were not to be considered as iron clad throughout until trials of them had been made.

Gasoline rationing seems to be imminent for all parts of the country, Mr. Keely said. The tires on pleasure cars are the tires you will have for the duration, he said. No more trucks are being manufactured and very shortly there will be no more trucks to be rationed out. Parts are also out for the duration after the present supply is used.

"We of the PMTA are going to do one thing," said Mr. Keely, "and this may not be popular. We are convinced it is for everybody's good however. We are going to ask the Pennsylvania Motor Police to enforce the rules both as to speed of trucks and weights. Unless we police ourselves in these matters the government will do it for us."

He explained that the stock of crude rubber would go for the most part, in making tires for armed forces and that the little crude rubber available from sources still held by the United Nations would not go to civilians.

He went into the order concerning deliveries. Only one pick up and delivery per day to customers. No trips over the road unless the return trip has a load of not less than 75 per cent of the carrying capacity of the trucks.

Attorney Marshall Matheny followed Mr. Keely and suggested the formation of several committees locally to co-operate with a central committee to work out the problems. This will be done by President Al W. Bauman, Jr. A committee will be appointed from the following groups of carriers: Private, contract, commercial, local carriage, household movers and over the road haulers. In addition, a central committee will be appointed to clear the problems of all the groups and this central committee will then clear with the O. D. T. office in Pittsburgh.

Men With Genuine
Dependents May
Not Be Called SoonNational Selective Service
Director Says They May Not Be Called This Year

(International News Service)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 26.—Men with genuine dependents may "feel reasonably safe" that they will not be called for military service this year and some 10,000,000 persons may expect to be transferred from private business to war industries before January, 1943.

These messages were left today with the Institute of War Problems at Harvard university by Major-General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service.

Explaining why men with "genuine" dependents probably would not be drafted this year, he said:

"We are planning to avoid unnecessarily jeopardizing the genuine American family which supplies our future citizens. The family must be nurtured and preserved, but it must not be made the refuge for those who want to evade military service."

Everyone—young and old," said General Hershey, "may expect to be called into some sort of service. This includes women and children—depending on the length of the war."

He termed the 18-19-year-old class an "area of potential reserve" but admitted "when we are going to draw on it, I don't know."

Russians Commend American Planes

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, May 26.—Battle-wise Russian pilots, veterans of savage sky-fighting against the Nazi air legions in more than 11 months of war, have placed their stamp of approval on American-made planes.

They made that plain at a luncheon for American correspondents inspecting an airfield at Moscow.

Hosts were Lt. Col. Nestor Dimidov, commander of an American wing composed of Tomahawks, Kittyhawks and Aircobras, and members of his flight, all of whom praised U. S.-made aircraft, which have seen heavy fighting the last few months.

Aircobra Best

The Soviet fliers agreed they liked the Aircobra best of the foreign fighters, but they think the Russian Mig is faster at a 7,000-meter height.

The Aircobra, they said, has greater firepower in volume, but the Mig shoots farther.

The only changes the Russians are making in the Tomahawk are in adapting it for conditions on the Red front, where everything from long-distance patrol to tank fighting may be included in a flier's necessary repertoire.

Members of the Soviet airforce said they thought the German Heinkel 113 perhaps is better than the Aircobra, but all other Nazi fighting planes are inferior.

Visit Airfield

The American newspapermen were escorted around the airfield by a heavily-armed Russian pilot wearing three orders of the Red banner.

"I shot down four Japanese planes in 1939 but they don't count in this war," he told the correspondents.

He admitted the first medal was won for action against Japan, the second against Finland and the third for fighting the Germans.

But he refused to give his total score of enemy planes shot down, and referred instead to Capt. Eugene Gorbatyuk, the new Soviet hero who had shot down nine German planes.

Lt. Semyon Lyvon praised the Tomahawk, in which he has shot down four Nazi planes, but admitted he wanted an even better fighter.

His biggest complaint was that there are not enough spare parts for American planes, particularly sparkplugs.

Radios and armaments also were called poor.

The Red fliers agreed, however, that Aircobras, Tomahawks and Kittyhawks were superior to the British Hurricanes.

Lacking large numbers of Aircobras, the Russians said they were using them carefully, saving them for an emergency.

Blackout Slated For All New York

Project To Cover 311 Square Miles, 7,500,000 Population; "Dimout" Fails

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 26.—Thorough dissatisfaction with the present efforts to "dimout" New York and other eastern seaboard communities in order to eliminate the "murderous" backdrop of light that silhouettes merchant ships for enemy submarines, was expressed Monday by army officials.

Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Terry, second corps area commander, warned that unless the dimout was more effective the army would be forced to take drastic measures.

General Terry asked New Yorkers to adopt the slogan concerning their lights:

"When in doubt put it out."

Meanwhile Mayor F. H. LaGuardia announced that the first blackout of the entire city would be staged within a week or ten days. Each borough has had its individual blackout test and the mayor was confident the whole city, covering 311 square miles and housing 7,500,000 people, would come through the first "total blackout" with flying colors.

Advices Parents To Censor Mail To Army Boys

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON.—Chaplain Gary Bousman of Camp Grant, Ill., believes the folks at home should censor the letters they write to sons in the army.

"Parents should realize that homesickness in the soldier begins at home," he wrote in an article appearing in the last quarterly of "The Army and Navy Chaplains."

"Young soldiers complain to their homes about the adjustments they must make. Wise parents will realize these complaints are natural under the circumstances. They will lend an attentive ear but will not encourage their son to become a knacker."

The home, said Chaplain Bousman, can nurture homesickness until it becomes like a "strangling vine choking the morale of its victims" or snuff it out by letter of courage, cheer and confidence.

7,000 Schoolboys Seek Farm Jobs

(International News Service)

NEW YORK.—Seven thousand New York City high school boys have asked for jobs on farms this summer, the board of education has announced. Boys of 16 and over are eligible for the work, which will pay $20 a month, plus board, room and transportation.

Boys are being enrolled to offset the shortage of farm labor. The board of education has mapped the program in cooperation with the United States Employment Service and the agricultural extension service of Cornell University.

A survey by Cornell indicates that New York City eventually will be asked to supply 25,000 farm workers. Ten thousand will be needed for general work this summer and 15,000 seasonal jobs, such as picking fruit.

Congress Paves Way For Recess

Will Step Up Tempo Of Legislation For Appropriation Bills—Recess In July

By JACKSON ELLIOTT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Congressional leaders have mapped plans to step up the tempo of legislation to complete enactment of major appropriation bills and pave the way for a summer recess beginning early in July.

The suggestion by a representative of the British parliament that a delegation representing congress officially visit parliament in London in July, however, appeared doomed.

Uniform Helps Marine To Lose His Old Shyness

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD.—Clothes might make the man, but a service uniform makes a man courageous, Actress Nancy Coleman discovered today.

Making her third picture—"The Gay Sisters" at Warner Bros.—since being transplanted from the New York stage, Miss Coleman was thus edited by a letter from a United States Marine.

"I lived next door to you in a New York apartment for a long time," the Marine wrote. "I never met you. I saw you play in 'Susan and God' several times, and although I worked on a newspaper, I never had the courage to introduce myself."

"I'm a Marine now. The uniform has done something to me. I'm full of boldness and bravery. So I'm writing this letter to ask for an autographed picture."

"My next letter will be asking you for a date."

"The date?"

"We shall see about that," she said. "The uniform certainly has made him aggressive."

Gee, What A Life This Dog Has Led

(International News Service)

BOSTON.—"Reds" wanderings were over today—at least for a while.

Red, a 3-year-old cocker spaniel, the pet of Loring William Schutz, Rosindale naval architect, has traveled 10,000 miles in a crate, to and from Honolulu, where his master is on duty at Pearl Harbor.

A year ago "Red" was shipped to Honolulu at the request of Schutz. However, since the attack on Pearl Harbor, dog food has become scarce and the pet had to be sent back to Rosindale.

Place Blame For Rubber Shortage

Senate Committee Also Sees Little Chance For Tires For Individuals

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Senate defense committee today blamed lack of foresight by government officials, together with greed of the international "rubber trust" and private companies, for the American rubber crisis.

In a special report to the Senate the committee warned that experts predict that only 7,500,000 out of 30,000,000 passenger cars can be maintained in operation over the next three years.

The committee said through its chairman, Sen. Harry Truman (D., Mo.), that there will be no tires for civilians for three years. The committee also reported that there may be requisitioning of tires and urged consideration of nation-wide gasoline rationing.

The barnacles which attach themselves to the bottom of ships tend to retard their speed. These are scraped by hand off naval vessels which are brought into dry-dock.

British Navy Trains Own Commandos

(International News Service)

LONDON.—Naval commandos—sailors trained as saboteurs, raiders, and assault-troops—are the latest addition to Britain's fighting forces. Trained in much the same way as the army commandos, the sailors will be used to prepare the ground for raiding parties, to carry out high-speed demolition work; and to maintain communications with their home or floating base.

Canadian seamen are among those presently undergoing rigid tests.

Nurses Prove Courage On Bataan Peninsula

By LEE VAN ATTA
N. S. Staff Correspondent
MELBOURNE, May 26.—The 84 American nurses who kept the dying alive and the living from dying in the twin peaks of Bataan and Corregidor now have reached the comparative safety of Australia.

But the story of their heroism and unselfish gallantry, still untold, is one of the most stirring tales in all the history of American arms. And that story would be incomplete without the names of Lieut. Rosemary Hogan of Chattanooga, Okla., and Lieut. Josephine Nesbit of Kansas.

Only 84 There

There were only 84 American nurses, certainly not a big army as armies go. But this was one army in which numbers meant little. True a few hundred more might have lessened the strain, but what those few accomplished never can be forgotten.

Their was the courage which never faltered. Theirs were the smiles and winks which kept things going when the going was worst. This war has produced many heroes but none more deserving of the name than the gallant band of young American women who formed the American Nurses Corps in the Philippines.

For many of them the war began the day that Clark Field was bombed out of existence. They moved their few belongings to Fort Stotsenburg and later to Manila. When Manila fell they moved with the army to which they had sworn allegiance and on Bataan and on Corregidor they stood by until that final morning when weary but still fighting American soldiers had to lay down their arms in the face of superior numbers.

On To Australia

Only then, their work finished, did they move to the comparative safety of Australia.

Their battle dress was the strange one that any woman ever wore—size 42 army issue coveralls, tin hats, huge shoes and gas masks fastened to their waists. But in their hands they held the instruments which saved hundreds of American lives, and in their voices they held the courage and cheer which did things medical science could not accomplish.

That is the picture of American nurses, who side by side with American doughboys fought for four months on a plaque-ridden peninsula with bombs falling most of the time.

Their hospitals were only clearings in the jungle, situated where water was available or in spots where wounded men could be comparatively cool.

Their food was no better than that served to the soldiers—and that was only rice and horse meat or an occasional water buffalo.

Bathe In Streams
When the nurses bathed it was in muddy streams and when they slept it was the sleep of sheer exhaustion, marred by gunfire and raged pests. Moreover, they slept under army blankets that had not been washed for months.

Yet they fought on without thought of self and without regard for victory or defeat. And although the military decision finally went against the American forces, the nurses came through triumphantly, for they had done their duty to the utmost.

There were the great and the near great among the nurses—although everyone of them left no doubt as to their courage and their willingness to serve.

U. S. Treasury Department

The Salvation Army is a religious organization. All America knows the Salvation Army as a great social service organization; from the collection of papers and rags to the functioning of well-equipped hospitals and a vast network of humanitarian endeavor, ministering to the homeless, needy, poor and down-trodden in every phase of their multifarious needs.

But the Army is primarily a religious organization, founded to bring the message of redeeming love to the outcasts of the world; to bring the church to the masses who will not go to church.

Social service activities grew from the appalling needs discovered by Salvationists in their spiritual ministrations. A young woman would express a desire to lead a better life. Inquiry would reveal that she was in immediate need of shelter and medical care. Her case became a baffling problem.

A mother would be found, dying from the inhuman treatment of her drunken husband. Obviously the children could not be left to his care. What could be done?

Starving, homeless men and women were discovered by the thousand. It was useless to concentrate upon their souls' salvation and ignore the misery of their bodies.

This, little by little, the social service work grew. Today there are over 16,000 centers of religious work in the world, with 21,000 officers engaged in meeting the spiritual needs of the people. Over 4,000 officers are engaged in more than 1,600 social service institutions and agencies.

Tries To Time War May Lose $75,000

(International News Service)
LONDON.—Because the war didn't end at midnight, April 6, Charles Read, prominent London and Glasgow bookmaker, paid out $25,000.

On April 6, 1941, Read offered to bet the war would end within 12 months. The offer was immediately snapped up.

Read still has an outside chance of finishing up $25,000 in pocket should the war end by June 22 of this year. On the eve of the German invasion of Russia he offered to bet an even $50,000 that the war would end within 12 months. His offer was taken up within a fortnight.

All this speculating on the end of the war is the outcome of a prediction made by the late Charles Clarke, founder of Read's bookmaking firm just before he died in February, 1941. Clarke forecast that the Germans would invade and overrun Greece within a few weeks. He added that within a short time the Germans would turn on Soviet Russia, and within 12 months would be driven back and defeated.

Martin Pleads Case Of Small Business

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—Small business is threatened with extinction unless the "lifeline" of government aid is thrown out immediately, Rep. Joseph W. Martin, (R) Mass., minority leader of the house declared Monday in calling for the passage of the Murray-Patman Bill.

"I hope the present bill, when passed, will not be administered so it will prove to be another mirage," Martin said. "Unless we do come to the rescue of the small business man in a substantial way there will be many a ghost town in the United States."

The bill as it passed the senate established a small war plants corporation with a $100,000,000 revolving fund. The House Banking and Currency Committee increased this amount to $200,000,000. The War Production Board chairman would be authorized to name five directors of the corporation and to make an inventory of productive facilities for war production through sub-contracting.

ITHACA, N. Y.—The oximeter, newest device for testing the oxygen equipment for combat crews flying in the stratosphere, was developed recently by a member of the Department of Physiology of Cornell Medical College and the New York Hospital, in collaboration with the Aero Medical Research Unit of

Wright Field and the University of Pennsylvania.
The oximeter capitalizes on the fact that blood, which is taken from the lobe of the ear, changes color as its oxygen content changes. The device attached to the ear has a tiny excited-lamp on one side and a light sensitive photocell on the other. Blood normally saturated with oxygen is bright red, but as more and more oxygen is lost it shades off to deep purple. Purple passes less red light, so that changes in the oxygen content of the blood alter the intensity, and the change is recorded.
The oximeter is of value to aviation medicine, both in aero-medical research and for teaching flying personnel the hazards of anoxia, or lack of oxygen. Readings can be taken at will, within an accuracy of approximately five per cent, without interrupting test procedures. As rapidly as they are available, oximeters are being secured by army and navy indoctrination centers.

Perfect A New Device To Test Oxygen Supply

(International News Service)
ITHACA, N. Y.—The oximeter, newest device for testing the oxygen equipment for combat crews flying in the stratosphere, was developed recently by a member of the Department of Physiology of Cornell Medical College and the New York Hospital, in collaboration with the Aero Medical Research Unit of

Wright Field and the University of Pennsylvania.
The oximeter capitalizes on the fact that blood, which is taken from the lobe of the ear, changes color as its oxygen content changes. The device attached to the ear has a tiny excited-lamp on one side and a light sensitive photocell on the other. Blood normally saturated with oxygen is bright red, but as more and more oxygen is lost it shades off to deep purple. Purple passes less red light, so that changes in the oxygen content of the blood alter the intensity, and the change is recorded.
The oximeter is of value to aviation medicine, both in aero-medical research and for teaching flying personnel the hazards of anoxia, or lack of oxygen. Readings can be taken at will, within an accuracy of approximately five per cent, without interrupting test procedures. As rapidly as they are available, oximeters are being secured by army and navy indoctrination centers.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK.—Howard K. Matco, 36, a 3-foot, 8-inch clown was among those to register for selective service in New York City.
Perched on three telephones atop a chair, he tilted out the registration questionnaire and said: "I wish I could spring up like magic and bop the Japs just once. Been in show business all my life. Well, if I can't fight I can make people laugh. That ought to help some."

President Cuts Relief Estimate

Labor And Material Shortage Brings Drastic Cut In Request For Relief Funds

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—With a shortage of labor and material beginning to develop, President Roosevelt has sharply revised his work-relief estimates made last January and informed congress that only a total of $280,000,000 will be necessary to run the works projects administration during the 1942 fiscal year. Tentatively, in January, the president had estimated that $465,000,000 would be required to aid the unemployed.

Revise Security Act

At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt proposed to congress that after the 1942 fiscal year the problem of caring for those who can not be absorbed in private employment should be approached through a permanent revision and extension of the social security act. He promised to make specific recommendations for such legislation at a later date on the basis of studies which are now in progress.

In today's special message, the president estimated that $280,000,000 plus a balance of $57,000,000 from the 1942 relief appropriation would permit an average monthly relief employment of about 400,000 persons.

"Since my January message, funds appropriated or recommended for the conduct of the war have tremendously increased," the president informed the congress. "Shortages of labor and material are rapidly developing. To meet labor shortages, the recruitment of workers from every available source will be required, and possibly even organized migration in some instances."

"However, it is estimated that at present there are still some three million unemployed. Of these, many will be hired during the coming year, yet in a labor force extending to 60,000,000 persons there will remain a substantial number of individuals who will not be hired by private employers because of age, lack of skill, other handicaps. A certain number may not be able to migrate from regions having surplus labor to regions where workers are needed."

"In this connection, I can not emphasize too strongly the need for industry to abandon prevailing practices of discrimination, racial and otherwise, in recruiting labor for war production."

Governor Lehman To Complete Term

(International News Service)
ALBANY, N. Y., May 25.—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman today said it is his present intention to serve out his term, which ends December 31, before accepting President Roosevelt's offer of a high federal war post.

Although completion of action on bills passed by the legislature leaves the governor free to go to Washington, he told newspapermen that it is not his present expectation to leave here until the end of my term. I made that statement several weeks ago when I said I would not accept renomination. It still stands and it is my present expectation to serve here until the end of my term."

Senator Lee Urges Gas Ration Meeting

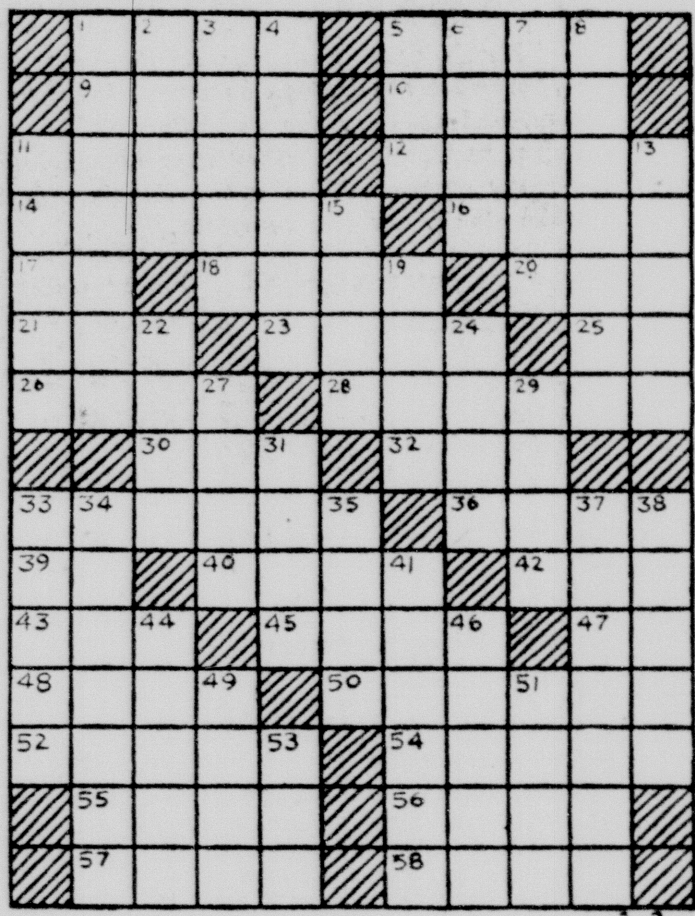

(Washington News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—Sen. Joseph Lee (D) Okla., on Monday urged federal officials in charge of gasoline and tire conservation to call a conference of governors and representatives of the oil industry to consider whether to ration gasoline in oil producing states.

Lee said he sent telegrams calling for such a conference to Donald M. Nelson, war production board chairman; Joseph B. Eastman, transportation co-ordinator; Leon Henderson, price administrator; and Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who is also petroleum co-ordinator.

Lee also sent a telegram to President Roosevelt asking him to take the people into his confidence on the oil and tire situation.

Ask Public To Watch For Antenna

City police today asked citizens to turn hunter.

The tall, whipcord type antenna which has been on police cruiser car number three was lost off the car yesterday.

Police would consider it a favor were people to watch for it lying in some street, and if found, call number 6.

Garden Hints

Every ten days from the middle of July to the middle of August string beans can be planted for a fall frost to harvest.

Careless picking of peas and beans frequently disturbs the plant's roots. The vine should be held with the left hand while the pods are removed with the right hand.

When purchasing potatoes for seed remember that the better the seed the better the crops will be next fall.

Soup celery or cutting celery is not blanched. The tops are cut when three or four inches high, for use in soup flavoring. The tops grow very rapidly and can be continually cut throughout the season.

Cabbage, tomatoes and sweet corn should not be cultivated much after the plants have begun to grow well, except for more scraping of ground with a garden soufflé hoe to kill weeds, so that roots close to the surface will not be injured.

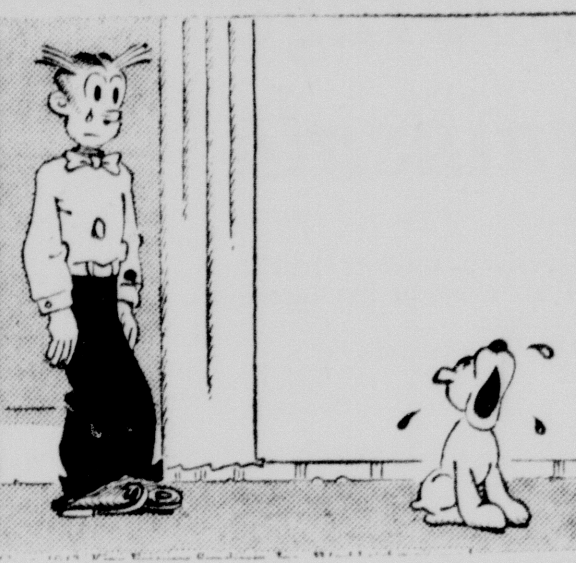

During the growing season keep a daily watch on your plants. Don't wait until they are heavily infested to get busy. Dust or spray at first appearance of a pest or better still as a preventative before you see any.

"Better late than never," said the oldtimers; but the words have the same meaning now.

Mrs. Roosevelt To Pay Tribute To Great Germans

With Speaker Rayburn Will Attend Muhlenberg Bicentennial At Allentown

ALLENTOWN, Pa., May 26.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn will be among the nation's outstanding personages to lead this country's tribute to four great American Germans at the bicentennial celebration of the Muhlenberg family at the college campus which now bears their name.

The president's wife is scheduled to arrive today to honor Henry Melchior Muhlenberg, Lutheran clergyman who planted his church in America 200 years ago, and his three patriotic sons.

The sons were: Major General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg, one of Washington's most trusted officers; Frederick Augustus Conrad Muhlenberg, first speaker of the U. S. house of representatives; and Gottlieb H. E. Muhlenberg, early American botanist and for many years pastor of Trinity Lutheran church at Lancaster.

Rayburn and Governor Prentice Cooper of Tennessee are scheduled to make their appearances at Memorial Day exercises honoring the first speaker of the house.

One of the high points in the week-long celebration will be the unveiling of a statue of the major general showing the Revolutionary war soldier as he removed his clerical gown and told his Woodstock, Va., congregation "There's a time for all things—a time to preach and a time to pray. But there is also a time to fight and that time has come."

It would be smarter to save China and let Australia go, if choice must be made. China's manpower is our chief hope over there.

German Alien Goes On Trial In Pittsburgh

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 26.—William Johann Adams, 40, the German alien accused of swindling several Pittsburghers in a Nazi "bond racket," was saved by a pair of pants Monday.

Scheduled to appear for trial in criminal court, Adams was hustled into the courthouse clad in a dark red silk bathrobe, a pair of grey denims pants and a shirt.

As he waited outside the courtroom, he paced up and down inquiring whether his wife, a beautiful New York model, had returned with his suit which she had taken out several days ago to be cleaned and pressed.

Just in the nick of time she returned and Adams went into court dressed freshly and neatly.

Crafton Flier Reported Safe

Mother Overjoyed When She Learns Son Safe; Had Been Reported Lost

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 26.—Mrs. H. C. Suehr, of nearby Crafton, knew today that her soldier-son, Dick, was safe and well in Australia through a series of coincidences that seemed almost too fictional to be real.

Mrs. Suehr had been heart sick because she hadn't heard from her son since Christmas. Several weeks ago, a newspaper dispatch from Australia mentioned him as a flier who had been lost for six days. It didn't say anything else about him.

Then Rev. James F. Carroll, dean of the Graduate School at Duquesne University, telephoned her and said he had received a newspaper from Australia which carried a story about her son surviving six hectic days in the remote jungle country of the land "Down Under," and was recuperating in Brisbane.

Father Carroll explained that the paper had been sent to him by a friend, who had underlined a little item about a book written by his brother, Father Joseph Carroll, a priest in the little town of Hay, New South Wales. He said he was almost ready to throw the paper away when he noticed the story about the Pittsburgh boy's battle against the elements.

He picked up a telephone book, and started calling all the "Suehrs," and he reached the right one. Mrs. Suehr, mother of nine other children, was overjoyed at the news.

Special Excursions To Be Abandoned

To save rubber and gas, and to conserve equipment for war time use the Penn-Ohio Coach Lines Company has filed notices with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Interstate Commerce Commission to cancel all special Sunday and holiday excursion tariffs.

The action was announced today by M. M. Malmer, general manager of the interurban bus company, which operates throughout eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia.

The action is taken in line with the policy announced by Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, requiring "that existing passenger transport vehicles be utilized to the utmost and that critical materials be conserved."

New Ration Head Asked For State

Henderson Asks Governor James To Submit Panel Of Five Names; James Sends One

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 26.—A request by Price Administrator Leon Henderson that Gov. Arthur H. James submit to him a panel of five names from which a new state rationing director would be chosen has been rejected. The governor's office disclosed Monday.

"Henderson wired the governor asking that he submit five names," said J. Paul Pedigo, the governor's secretary. "The governor wired back that T. Elmer Trauseau, present state administrator, had done a fine job and that he should be replaced by someone else. He refused to submit any other names, recommending only Trauseau."

Pedigo said Henderson's request was made "about April 20" and the governor replied the following day. "The next move is up to Henderson," asserted Pedigo.

The governor's secretary said he understood the new position would pay "around $10,000 a year." At present Trauseau is on leave from the revenue department, where he is chief of the safety division. He receives no additional salary.

Pedigo said "the O.P.A. was so pleased with Trauseau's work that they offered him a post as regional rationing director over several states, but he refused."

Pedigo said it was his understanding that local rationing boards in Pennsylvania, of which there are 42, will be cut in half under the reorganization plan, and district boards will be created. In Philadelphia, he said, the 80 boards will be reduced to 40 and eight district boards created.

State headquarters will be moved from Harrisburg to Philadelphia. Experts on rationed articles will be assigned to each district board.

Pedigo said he understood further that all personnel under the new arrangement, with the possible exception of local boards, will be paid by the federal government.

Grant Petition Of Nat'l Board

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Supreme Court on Monday granted the petition of the National Labor Relations Board for review of a sixth circuit court decision holding that unlawful conduct by a union affects its standing before the board.

The company charged that employees of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, an A. F. of L. union which charged unfair labor practices, had committed crimes against its property.

Says U. S. Women Do Not Realize There Is A War On (International News Service) ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—American women are "reluctant to give up their luxury life" and a great many women do not realize there is a war going on, according to Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of Baltimore, Md., president of the General Federation of Women's clubs.

In Albuquerque to address the state federation, Mrs. Whitehurst declared she hopes to be able to "jolt women out of that 'peace philosophy' of not realizing there's a very real, terrible war going on."

Instead of learning first aid and rolling bandages, women should be more concerned about consumer problems—housing shortages and conservation, she said.

"The nation snapped out of it right after Pearl Harbor, but now we're slipping back again," she added.

"We must realize that there's a very real danger of our losing the war," Mrs. Whitehurst heads an organization of 2,500,000 women.

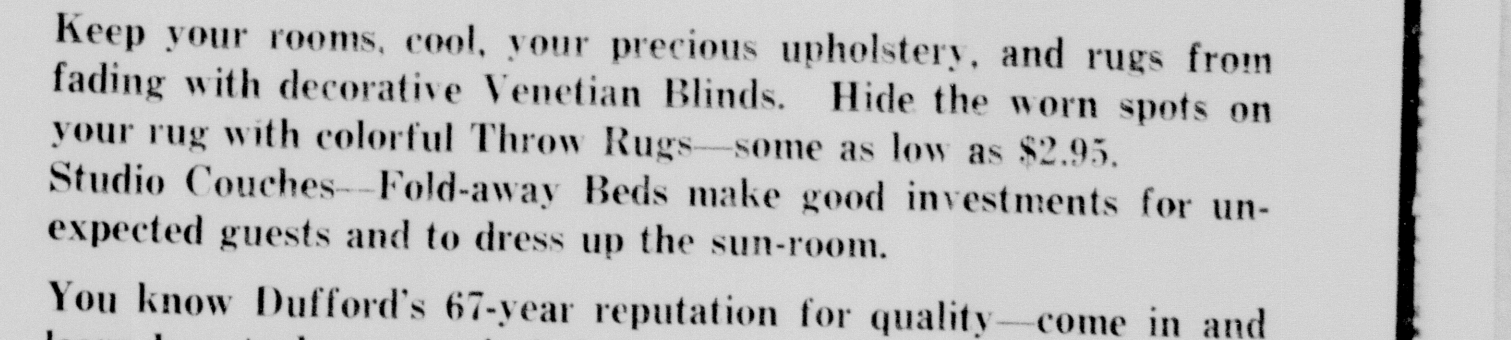

People in a rationed State might hire a farmer with team and wagon to haul gasoline from a State that isn't rationed.

Dismiss Pittsburgh Police Inspector

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 26.—Police Inspectors Peter Leheny of the Oakland District and Edward J. Brophy of the East End were dismissed Monday in what unofficial reports interpreted both as an appeasement move and a political prelude to Mayor Cornelius D. Scully's resignation to accept a government appointment. Councilmen and spokesmen in the mayor's office, however, ridiculed the reports about the resignation.

The event is for members only. Emmett W. Gillespie, member of the Ben Franklin faculty, who is supervising the event, stated:

Fritzie Winner: Burley Defeated

Zivic Scores T. K. O. Over Jenkins In 10th; Charles Snaps Burley Streak

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 26.—Charles Burley of Pittsburgh, who had to go away to win recognition in the boxing world, has his string of 26 victories snapped last night when Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati youngster, won a unanimous decision over the 10-round bout.

They billed the Charles-Burley fight as a warm-up for the Fritz-Zivic-Lew Jenkins brawl but it took the feature spot instead. The Ohio boy stepped into Burley at the opening bell and didn't stop punching for 10 rounds.

Zivic and Jenkins put on one of their pier six brawls but the Lawrenceville welterweight was in there at the final round when Commission Doctor Jimmy refused to permit Jenkins to continue because of a bad eye. Lew and his handlers protested with no results.

In two other 10-rounders, Sgt. Mike Raffia, featherweight, landed a left hook on the chin of former Champ Joey Archibald in the fifth round and scored a knockout. Mike Brown, McKeesport negro, knocked out Al Boros of Bridgeport, Conn., in the second round of a 10-round bout.

Baxter 'Kayoes' Billy Grumbacher

Bell Ending Fight Saves Reale From Knock Out In Arena

MORAN AND LEASURE SCORE VICTORIES

Fistic folk who trekked into The Arena last night witnessed Russell Baxter, the Rapier Kid, flatten Southpaw Billy Grumbacher, Frank Moran outbottle Harold Gadsdon, Babe Leasure stiffen Andy Arrington and George Magsum beat Billy Reale in a gory battle. In fact, the fistic circus was one of the best amateur shows yet held by the Jefferson A. C.

Grumbacher raced across the ring with the first bell hopeful of hitting the Rapier Kid with a sucker punch, but it failed. Baxter got going near the end of the round against the southpaw and had Billy covering in a corner at the end of the session. Grumbacher nailed Baxter on the chin with a left at the opening of the second. Baxter's knees buckled. However, he pulled himself together, turned his body sideways, kept off Grumbacher's left and then, suddenly, leashed out with a right to the chin that knocked out the rugged Youngstown boy.

Gory Fight This bout preceded the Billy Reale-Magsum heavyweight fight which found Reale on the floor at the end of the fight and saved from a knockout by the bell. Magsum was the shifter of the two and finally brought down husky Billy with a right to the chin.

Up to the third, each had captured a round. Bill because of his crowding and blows to head and body in the second and Magsum because of his boxing and footwork in the opening round. When the third opened their faces and bodies were reared from gore flowing from their nostrils.

Reale forced the fighting in the third and with body blows apparently had the Chester heavyweight weak. Magsum backed away, then quickly stepped in with a right to the jaw that shook up Reale. He quickly followed this with a second hard right to the chin and down went Reale. The bell saved him from a "kayoe."

Frankie Moran won by a wide margin from Harold Gadsdon. He dropped Harold who hails from Clairton with a right in the second round. Gadsdon took a count of nine and was then hit with a left that made him go to a knee. However, Gadsdon didn't wait for a count. In the third Moran forced the fight, however, he spared his hands rather than take a chance at hitting Gadsdon's head.

Baby Face Leasure looked good against Andy Arrington. He hit Andy on the chin with a right. Andy went down and the next time he was hit he stayed down. In fact he reared on the edge of the ring, half in, half out, and the referee, Sam Levshock, stopped the fight.

Tony Aiello, Youngstown city college griddler beat Jack Kid McPadgen in a hard three round bout. It was a fight all the way with Aiello crowding in and proving a popular slugger. There wasn't a dull second in the battle between the two Youngstown middleweights.

Very Good Bout Van Penn of Clairton won by a TKO from Ernie Robinson in the third round. Van Penn and Robinson put on a great fight with the former the capter, taller, and better puncher. However, the third round found Robinson on the floor and the referee stopped the fight.

Eddie Starveski of Chester and Carl Rouse of Niles put on a good whirl for three rounds at 135 and Ossie Pezese and Eddie Kennedy, bantamweights of Youngstown, put on a lively cur-ranter.

The Jefferson A. C. staged the show with the P.A.C. and A.A.U. in charge. The judges were Phil Greer and Frank Ross, announcer Staff Sergeant Johnny Dean, U.S.M.C., and timekeeper, Billy Pazzone.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEZALL

All ex-navy men are requested to register at the Greater New Castle Navy, in The Castleton... this information will be used in connection with Navy week. Cooperation from all men in this group will be greatly appreciated.

The June class of 1941 of the local High School will hold their first reunion on June 11th at El Rio Beach... all members of this class are invited to attend. Dinner will be served at six-thirty and tickets may be secured by calling 4533... All members have been notified by mail as far as correct addresses have been available... see that your friends are notified class of June 1941.

This week-end will be a long one for the store clerks in New Castle... they will finish up work Friday evening and then they won't be on duty until noon Monday... that is what you call a British week-end. Wonder how the people will stand that much vacation... Will they stay at home and conserve on gasoline... the people in other sections of this state will... Be careful and have fun.

A real friend is one who when he comes to visit you he brings you a pound of sugar... That is one of the nicest presents anyone could give a person... especially one who hasn't any sugar stamps. Yes, there are some nice people in the world.

This summer more housewives than ever will be canning fruits and vegetables for next winter's dinners. Be sure, new cooks, that you do the procedure correctly. Miss Quinn, Home Economic Advisory here for the State has planned several canning classes in this county for the 4H Clubs... for time and date of said classes call the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association office in the Post Office Building.

May we call your attention to the classified ads that appear in this issue... there might be something advertised here that you would like to sell... who can tell.

Aviation And Blue Chips Lead In Market Trading Of Day

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 26.—The stock market firmed today under the lead of aviation and blue-chips. A few issues advanced a point or more, but gains generally were modest.

Wright Aeronautical was the individual star, spurring 4 points to 86 in its first appearance since the week ended May 11. Douglas ran up 1 1/2 points, while other aircraft manufacturing issues gained fractions.

Gains of at least a point were chalked up by American Telephone, Dow Chemical and Westinghouse Electric. Moderate improvement was noted in Bethlehem Steel, S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Anaconda, General Electric, Union Carbide, Du Pont, Standard Oil of N. J., Consolidated Edison, Santa Fe, U. S. Rubber, American Can and American Tobacco "B."

There were a few laggards, including Pepsi-Cola, International Harvester, Union Pacific, Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck.

Commodities displayed easier tendencies. Bonds were quiet and steady, with some of the speculative rail liens up fractions.

Says Rubber Shortage Has Been Magnified

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 26.—The rubber shortage in the United States has been magnified through driving consumer goods off the market when cheap, plentiful substitutes are available. Elliott E. Simpson, independent rubber dealer, charged on Monday.

Simpson, who has several times testified before congressional committees in recent months and will testify again before two committees this week had this to say:

Use Of "Ersatz"

"Germany's wide use of 'ersatz' before and during the war is well known in America, yet very little has been done in this country to emulate European production specialists.

"Instead, restricting orders are being placed on consumer goods creating—in the case of rubber—a 'mythical' shortage. With the use of ersatz plus the nation-wide collection of scrap rubber for reclaiming purposes there will be sufficient rubber for every war and civilian need."

At his office, Simpson displayed samples of ersatz products turned out under his direction.

He showed blood albumen, obtained from animals, mixed with water to attain a product which, he said, is as adequate a binder as liquid latex, a rubber product.

He showed taps or half-soles designed for army shoes and which were made of old fire hose. He said there are millions of feet of old fire hose lying idle in the nation and every 60 feet is good for at least 90 pairs of taps.

Shows Shoes

He exhibited a workman's shoes soled with the material and worn for a period which, he said, would outwear ordinary rubber soles.

A little "thready" along the edges, the soles showed no other signs of wear.

He showed shoe heels made of chemically treated paper and so hard that considerable force was required to drive a nail through them.

He showed women's accessories, belts and items of that sort made of chemically treated paper and which had the appearance and the feel of rubber.

He showed sandal or slipper soles made of cotton rope and designed to be shipped over the soles in defense factories both as insulation and as protection against slipping.

He showed bedroom slippers with soles made of newsprint, sawdust, rags and rubber dust.

High Court Holds Commission Wrong

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 26.—The State Supreme Court on Monday affirmed the decision of the Luzerne county court of quarter sessions holding two Pittston township commissioners guilty of neglect of duty.

In an opinion returned by Justice George W. Maxey the court stated that Commissioners Joseph Crane and Pietro Morganti neglected to file a sworn statement of the township's road tax collections and expenditures for 1939 and also failed to give the department of internal affairs a copy of the sub-divisions budget in violation of an act of 1933.

Crane and Morganti, who appeared in the supreme court, contended that the filing of the reports was the duty of a township solicitor who had died.

The court stated that "the filing of the statement for 1939 at any time during the year and up to Feb. 1, 1940, would have constituted compliance with the act."

"Inasmuch as the same was not filed in 1939," the opinion added, "it was Crane's duty to see that the statement was filed in January, 1940. His failure to do so constituted a dereliction of duty during his present term which began January, 1940. We think it clear that Morganti was guilty of neglect of two mandatory duties and that Crane was guilty of one."

HOME GUARD GETS TOUGH

(International News Service)

LONDON.—An umpire's report on a recent invasion test, in which Home Guards and police were injured, suggested that the Home Guards were just a little too enthusiastic. "They would not accept being wiped out," said the report. "Extensive damage was done to the police station premises. The front and rear entrance doors were smashed and windows were broken."

Builds Apartments For Purple Martins

Owen P. Fox Finds Unusual Bird House At Seamons Home On Ellwood Road

For the past few years, many requests have come to Owen Fox, concerning the housing of purple martins.

Recently, Mr. Fox paid a visit to the home of W. B. Seamons, of the Ellwood City road, where the latter has an unusual colony of birds.

Mr. Seamons has had these birds stay on his place during the past five summers.

There seems to be a secret in erecting houses that will entice martins to make their abode in them.

Mr. Seamons seems to have unfolded the mystery.

barrel is placed on a heavy pole, up in the air about 22 feet.

He told Mr. Fox that when he first put the barrel up, the floors of the birds nesting place were even with the entrances, and the fledgling martins continued to drop out to the ground, and were killed. Before the next nesting season, he took the barrel down, and dropped the floors in the apartments, 2 inches below the entrances. The danger of the fledglings falling out.

Mr. Seamons states that every year, about the first of April, scout martins come in couples, go over the apartments, examining them in a thorough manner. Within a week or so, the tenants arrive, and "move in."

The male martin is a beautiful bird, somewhat larger than the female. The former's plumage is of such a dark purple, that it resembles the color of the skin of a ripe blue grape. The color is more easily observed when the sun strikes the bird's plumage.

One of the favorite foods of the purple martin is the snake feeder or May fly, which they gather in large numbers to feed their young.

Any persons interested in martins, trip should pay Mr. Seamons a visit, and see these miniature bird airplanes, which perform so gracefully in the sky.

Patent Upheld In Court Rule

He 'Sighted Girl, Married Same'

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Supreme Court on Monday by a 6 to 3 decision upheld a patent for improvements in automatic heel lasting machines and brought from dissenting judges the assertion that the majority views aids monopoly.

Justice Roberts delivered the opinion, which was based on appeal of the Williams Manufacturing Co. an Ohio concern, seeking to overturn patents of the Giant United Shoe Machinery Corporation.

The Williams company asserted that the patent involved was an attempt to repatent old devices long known in the shoe manufacturing industry.

The high court, however, ruled that the claims were confined to a combination of specific means which brought them within the patent law.

He 'Sighted Girl, Married Same'

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS.—When Cyril Harvey McGuire, New Orleans youth, connected with a Burbank, Cal., airline station, wanted to tell his mother he was married, he took a leaf from the book of Donald Francis Mason, the naval hero who messaged: "Sighted sub, sank same."

Mrs. McGuire was awakened one morning recently to receive this telegram: "Sighted girl, married same. Margie and I send love. Cyril."

He followed with a letter giving more details such as that the bride's full name had been Marjorie Crawford of San Diego and Los Angeles.

WAR GOES TO DOGS

PHILADELPHIA.—The war has gone to the dogs at last.

The division of information, office of emergency management, has announced that the use of rotenone in flea powder has been prohibited—and rotenone's the stuff that blitzes Flea's enemy.

Rotenone is imported from Malaya and the Netherlands Indies. There's enough in the country to allow its continued use as a de-lousing agent and as a spray for most food crops—but Flea will have to scratch.
